One of Australia's leading professional theatre companies for young people is seeking a non-executive board member with accounting and financial expertise

About Arena

Established in Melbourne in 1966, Arena is well-known for creating sophisticated and powerful works for young people. Over the past 50 years, the Company has performed for more than 500,000 people in 15 countries. More recently, Arena has established itself as a leader in innovation, collaborating with young people in their own communities and using contemporary technology and artistic practices to develop works for professional production.

In 2018, Arena relocated to Bendigo where it now makes its home at The Engine Room, in the City's vibrant and growing arts precinct. This move was made possible through the support of the Victorian State Government and the Company's ground-breaking collaboration with the City of Greater Bendigo. The same year saw the premiere of two major works, Robot Song and Air Race, as well as school workshop programs throughout Victoria and performances in Sydney and Beijing.

Our ambitious plans to grow our program, reach, impact and advocacy are well in train. For more information on the Company, please visit our website <https://arenatheatre.com.au>

The Opportunity

We will shortly have a vacancy on the Board for a non-executive director with accounting expertise. This role would suit someone with a professional accounting qualification, and experience in the financial management and governance of not-for-profit organisations or public sector entities. An interest in the performing arts and/or youth and community engagement would be desirable. The Board meets around eight times a year in Bendigo and this position would also be expected to chair the Finance Sub-Committee which meets on a similar cycle. The position is voluntary.

If you would like to discuss this opportunity further, please contact the Chair, Liz Grainger on 0438 464486 or egrainger@iinet.net.au.
